FATAL WRECK ON BIG FOUR

Taylor Keith, of West Port,
Killed in Caboose
of Train

Extra Freight and Work Train
Collide Near Henderson—
Two Engines Smashed

In a wreck between an extra freight and a work train on the Big Four that occurred on the curve, two miles south of Henderson, at 6:55 Saturday evening, Taylor Keith, 25, of Westport, a bridge foreman on the Big Four, received injuries from which he died at 11:35 Saturday night.

The extra freight train was in charge of Conductor Peter Hamer. The train had orders to protect itself against a work train near Henderson and according to the statement of the train crew was obeying orders at the time the wreck occurred. Engineer Barnwell said that he was running about twelve miles an hour, feeling his way so as to be ready for the work train. When his train came down the grade, south of Henderson, he applied the air brakes and checked the speed of the engine. When the work train came round the curve he threw on the air and reversed the engine, but the air brakes failed to work properly and the trains' speed was but slightly retarded.

The engine of the work train was running backward, drawing the caboose and its string of cars behind it. The train was in charge of Conductor Horace Kegg and the engine was in charge of Engineer Lagstetter.

George Bogue, who lives but a short distance away from the point where the wreck occurred, saw the two trains approaching and realized that a wreck was imminent. He says that both of the trains were apparently running thirty miles an hour. He heard the freight engine whistle three times. The collision, it is said, was heard by farmers within a radius of a mile from the scene.

The engineers and firemen on both engines jumped and escaped injury. Ben Jones, of Milroy, was in the cab of the north-bound engine. He leaped head first out of a window, turned a summersault and alighted on his feet.

When it was seen that a wreck could not be prevented, seven or eight men in the caboose of the work train took warning and leaped for their lives.

When the two trains came together the south-bound engine No. 342, lifted engine 473 of the extra freight from the track and hurled it down the embankment on the east side of the track. It was damaged beyond repair. The tender of engine 432 was demolished, but the engine held to the track. The caboose of the work train mounted to the top of 432. Two cars loaded with glass on the extra freight, were smashed and hurled to the side of the track. Immediately behind them was a tank car of cotton seed oil, which was demolished and thrown off the track. A box car loaded with barrels of whiskey was derailed and badly damaged. Two or three other cars were wrecked and jerked from the rails.

As soon as the dust cleared away the excited train crews gathered about the pile of wreckage and did what they could to prevent its taking fire.

Keith, the man fatally injured, was standing toward one end of the caboose of the work train washing his face from a basin of water when the wreck occurred. The other men leaped from the caboose and called to Keith, but it is supposed that he had his hands over his face washing at that instant, and did not hear them. The force of the collision knocked the man backward and upward. He fell in the other end of the caboose, and it is thought struck a corner of the cupola with the back of his head. He was found lying on the floor of the caboose, and when asked whether or not he thought that he was badly hurt, replied in the negative, but added that he was awfully sick. Blood was running from his ears and he soon became very deaf and then lapsed into unconsciousness. An examination disclosed the fact that the young man's skull was fractured at the base of the brain. When news of the wreck reached this city, Dr. O. P. Dillon and Dr. J. C. Sexton were sent to the scene of the wreck in an automobile. They arrived there in about forty minutes after it occurred. Some of the men had sustained slight bruises and cuts, but they did not need attention. Keith was removed to the home of George Bogue. The physicians worked with him for about two hours, but he gradually declined and all hope for his recovery was given up. About 11 p. m. the young man was brought to this city on a special train and taken to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Walters, where he died at 11:35.

Early Sunday morning the father, George Keith, arrived here from Westport and took charge of the body, which had been taken to Caldwell & Co's. Undertaking establishment, where it was prepared for burial. A large number of people viewed the remains Sunday morning and at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, fully three hundred people were at the Big Four depot, when the body was placed on a train, consisting of an engine, baggage car and caboose and sent to Westport. Keith was an Odd Fellow and about twenty members of Franklin lodge of this city, formed an escort that accompanied the body from the undertaking establishment to the depot. Chester Dillon and Henry Gregg, representing Franklin lodge, accompanied the body to Westport and returned this morning. The funeral service was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Almost the entire population of Westport met the funeral train upon its arrival there. Keith was a very popular young man and his death came as a shock to Westport people.

George Keith, the father, desires to thank those who so kindly assisted him here, and sympathized with him in his sad bereavement. The young man was one of five sons. He had been in the employ of the Big Four for six years.

Both the Greensburg and the Wabash wrecking crews were called upon to clear the wreck. The debris was not entirely cleared away until this morning. A large crane was used in hoisting the engine and in lifting the cars. Sunday hundreds of people flocked to the scene of the wreck from this city and elsewhere. A number of men were engaged in catching the cottonseed oil in barrels and hauling it away. The oil is said to be very valuable.

Traffic on the Michigan Division of the Big Four was delayed for several hours on account of the wreck. The railroad company, it is said, will hold an inquiry to ascertain the cause of the accident.

WILL REMAIN IN RUSHVILLE

Rev. W. P. McGarey Declines
a Call to California Church.

Rev. W. P. McGarey, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of this city, received an invitation a few days ago to become the pastor of the Harvard Heights, U. P. church in Los Angeles, Cal. This church is one of the best in that city, is located in one of the finest residence districts, and is considered one of the most promising and desirable pastorates of the denomination. Harvard Heights people have agreed to bear the expense of the trip and supply the local pulpit if Rev. McGarey will consider the call. However, Rev. McGarey has replied that after consideration of all the circumstances involved and consultation with some of the leading members of the local church, he feels that he would not be justified in leaving Rushville at the present time. This call is certainly a high tribute to Rev. McGarey's popularity and ability as a minister. His congregation is rejoicing at his decision to remain here.

Hon. Joseph Cannon.

Distinguished Statesman Who Was
Guest of Congressman Watson Today

HEARS OLD M. E. HYMNS

"Uncle Joe" Cannon the Guest of James E. Watson for a Short Time.

Public Reception at Home of
Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy
Sunday Evening.

Hon. Joseph Cannon, Speaker of the House of Representatives, or "Uncle Joe" Cannon, as he is known the country over, who has been expected here for a visit with Congressman Watson, but who it was thought, would not get here yesterday, managed to make connections and reached this city Sunday evening at 5 o'clock. Congressman Watson, having been notified by telegram that the Speaker was coming, met him at Indianapolis.

Mr. Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. Watson were entertained at dinner Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John K. Gowdy, at their home on North Perkins street. The dinner was followed by a public reception in honor of Mr. Cannon, during which "Uncle Joe" was greeted by some eighty or ninety of Rushville's leading citizens. Upon his arrival "Uncle Joe" suggested his fondness for the old-time religious hymns and a song service was arranged immediately. Church choirs were somewhat depleted and some of the best talent in the city was hurried to the Gowdy home to sing for the statesman.

The first man of the nation's lawmakers sat with bowed head and listened to the hymns he learned to love in his boyhood days. The scene was an impressive one. The musicians entered into the spirit of the occasion and sang as they never have before. The venerable statesman was the inspiration. "Rock of Ages," the speakers' favorite, was the climax to the evening's devotion. Other songs that were sung were: "Blessed be the Tie that Binds," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "There is a Fountain Filled with Blood," "Tenting Tonight," and other songs. A quartette composed of Congressman Watson, E. B. Thomas, Claude Thomas and B. F. Miller sang several selections. At the conclusion of each song "Uncle Joe's" features would light up with a broad smile and beaming eyes, and he would clap his hands and exclaim, "Good, good! That's an old timer," or "That's a great song." Then he would call for another and it was willingly and ably given. The singing lasted until nearly 11 p. m.

The guests of prominence at the reception were Consul-General J. A. Quay, of Florence, Italy; Robert E. Mansfield, Consul to Lucerne, Switzerland; Congressman Watson and family; Judge William J. Henley and wife, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson, of Indianapolis.

Mr. Cannon spent the night with Congressman and Mrs. Watson. He mixed business with pleasure and with Mr. Watson last night arranged some of the minor details of his speaking tour which will carry him and the Sixth District congressman all over the Union. When asked for an interview the speaker declined to make any statement other than he was on a little pleasure trip. He avoided all political subjects and would not discuss his recent conference with President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, N. Y., from which he is now returning to his home in Danville, Illinois, the situation in his own district, nor the work of the last congress.

Early this morning, District Chairman Owen L. Carr took the Speaker and Congressman Watson out for an automobile ride. The party stopped at the residence of Isaac Webb, southwest of the city and then journeyed into the Winship neighborhood.

"Uncle Joe" was elated with the ride and was highly pleased with the country.

"You know," he said as he swept by the fertile fields, "I live in the garden spot of the world at home, but I believe this country is equal to it, if not better, for you can raise more of a variety of things."

WATSON WILL HAVE NORMAL PLURALITY

Richmond Item's Headlines Calculated to Deceive—What
Mr. Starr Really Said.

The Richmond Item, in flaring headlines says: "Starr Talks of the Fight in the Sixth—Says Watson Will Win, but Admits That His Plurality Will be Reduced."

Then after reproducing a Democratic dispatch from Indianapolis, telling what bricklayers and others labor organizations are going to do, it thus quotes Harry Starr, Chairman of the Republican executive committee, on being asked what effect the labor movement would have on the Sixth district:

"Well, I suppose there will be no use for Watson's friends to go to the polls," replied he smiling.

Speaking seriously, however, Starr said that perhaps Watson might lose a few votes in the cities of the district, but that he would have a safe margin over Kuhn, his opponent. "The plurality will probably not be so great as it was two years ago," said he, "as that was phenomenal. But it will be as large as the normal plurality—say four years ago."

Four years ago it was up in the thousands, so if the Item regards that as an admission worthy of scare headlines, it is easily moved. Republicans are not, as a rule, given to making big claims preceding election. That is almost exclusively a Democratic practice.

GENEROUS GIFT TO OLD HOME CHURCH

Bert Bell, the Connersville ice man, donated fifty gallons of his best ice cream to the ladies of the Presbyterian church at Mays Station last Friday, which they used at a lawn fete and social for the benefit of the church. Mr. Bell's old home is at Mays and the church was where he got his early religious training. His friends think he may have been taught philanthropy too, for there never was a kinder man than Mr. Bell, when it comes to helping in a good cause.

FOUR TRAINS OF EMPLOYES

Specials Loaded With National Cash Register People Pass Through City.

Four trains, bearing five hundred workmen employed by the National Cash Register company, of Dayton, O., and their families passed through this city between 8 and 9:30 a. m. today. The first two trains were "double headers," one with ten coaches and one with nine. The third train was made up of nine coaches while the fourth had ten. On both side of each train were large banners lettered "Men's Welfare League, National Cash Register Company's Annual Outing, Michigan City, 1906."

THE BIG DIGGER HAS FINISHED JOB

Big Cut Ready For Ties—Force
Concentrated Where City and Outside Tracks Will Meet

The Connersville News says that the big cut west of Connersville is done, all but a little dressing with shovels, and this is now in progress. The big steam shovels that labored there so long was loaded and shipped away to Ohio last Saturday.

A large force of men are at work, were the lines for the city and outside meet, getting the bed ready for the ties and rails that will be laid with all possible speed.

Good reports are also coming in from Williams creek, where the heaviest of all the cuts is being made. It is thought that this will also be finished by August 15th or before. Work on both sides will be well along by that time and the closing of this short gap will then be but a matter of a day or two and then will come the trolley cars, probably not with full schedule, but enough to win that bet with the procrastinating Rushville Republican.

The Winnipeg Commercial says that the wheat crop in the Canadian Northwest this year will be about 97,000,000 bushels, which it estimates will sell at 65 cents a bushel. The population is about 800,000, and the amount to be received from the wheat alone will be $63,000,000.

Mr. Cannon was also delighted with Rushville, and was especially interested in the splendid natural gas resources that the country about Rushville affords.

At the conclusion of the automobile ride, "Uncle Joe" was taken to Congressman Watson's office, where he greeted about forty more of Rushville's citizens. One of these was Augustus N. Williams, who, when he was introduced to the Speaker, remarked, "My wife told me, Mr. Speaker, that you looked like Abraham Lincoln." "Well," said "Uncle Joe," with a broad smile, "you tell your good wife that Abraham Lincoln is dead now, so he cannot take offense at the comparison."

Those who met the Speaker at Mr. Watson's office this morning, were afforded an opportunity to see him in his characteristic pose, the pose in which he is so often pictured. Tilted back in his chair, his chin planted squarely on the bosom of his shirt, with a cigar between his teeth and the smoke curling about his nose, he sat for over an hour and told of his boyhood days spent along the Wabash, in Parke county, his admiration for the old pioneer North Carolinian immigrants, and of his school days at the old Friends' boarding school (now Earlham College) at Richmond.

"Uncle Joe" is full of good wholesome stories. He admits that the corn story published in the papers at his expense, is "a good one," but says that a man who doesn't like corn is not a true Hoosier.

While here Speaker Cannon suffered from a bad cold, but he was able to join in the singing last night without difficulty. He left at 10:45 this morning for Indianapolis, from which place he goes to his home in Danville. Mr. Cannon came here from New London, Connecticut. He and Mr. Watson will leave during the last week in August on their speaking tour. The first speaking will be done in Maine. They will put on rubber gloves and make a personal canvass of the Sixth District, looking after some rails that are down.

One of the features of Mr. Cannon's visit to this city was his meeting with Grandmother Martha Cook. Mrs. Cook and Mr. Cannon were school mates at Richmond. She is eighty-seven years of age and he is seventy-six. For a man of that age he possesses a wonderful physique and voice of power. He is as active as a man many years younger.

J. A. Quay, of Morgantown, Pa., United States Consul to Florence, Italy, who is here, looking after his race horses, being trained by Scott Brannum, will leave this week for New York, where he will sail for Florence. With Messrs. Cannon, Watson, Gowdy, Mansfield and Quay, there was quite a quintet of distinguished personages at the Gowdy home last night.

DENIES THAT HE STOLE SUIT CASE

Man Arrested Here Claims
That He Only Borrowed
It.

Lloyd Florea, of Metamora, arrested here before breakfast Saturday and taken to Connersville in the afternoon on a warrant sworn out by Dennis Swim, of Connersville, charging the theft of a suit case, denies that he stole the article. Florea says that his family lives near Metamora; that for a year or more Swim has made his home with them, they providing for him when he had no money or friends; that on several occasions Swim wore his (Florea's) clothes, once going to Cincinnati; that there was nothing in the suit case when he took it and he only used it because it had been their custom to exchange favors in that way and that he had no thought of stealing the property. This statement is corroborated by Florea's mother, who was called to Connersville by her son. She found Swim on the lawn south of the Connersville city hall and soundly berated him for his alleged ingratitude.

Walter E. Frazee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Frazee, who is studying for the ministry at Ann Arbor, Mich., occupied the pulpit at the Main Street Christian church both morning and evening Sunday and preached two excellent sermons to large congregations.

His sermons were highly argumentative and full of splendid thoughts and were delivered in a very clear and forceful manner. Mr. Frazee undoubtedly has a brilliant future before him. He gives promise of making an excellent minister.

CUBAN WAR VETERANS TO RECEIVE MONEY

Members of 61st Regiment Must Present Discharge and Prove their Identity

The members of the One Hundred and Sixty First Regiment of Spanish-American war soldiers, to which the Rushville company belonged, may now receive the money recently sent by the United States Government to the office of the adjutant general, by presenting their discharges from the service and proving their identity.

According to the circular it is not necessary nor even advisable for the soldiers to present their claims in person, but they should fill out a power of attorney on an enclosed blank authorizing the gentleman named to present their claims, sending the discharge and proper means of identification.

In order that the heirs of soldiers who have died may not be put to the expense of taking out letters of administration the circular states that the Governor will ask the coming General Assembly for a special act authorizing him to pay the sums involved to the next of kin, without additional costs to the recipients.

RUSHVILLE, IND., JULY 30, 1906.

The people of Indiana will be pretty well acquainted with Tom Taggart's "red devil" poker chips before the close of the campaign.

"The Republican party must keep itself worthy of the great trust and confidence reposed in it by the American people," says Senator A. J. Beveridge, and that sentiment will be endorsed by every good Republican.

"After a few days' visit with Luther Hamilton and friends in Clarksburg, Rev. McConnell will join Mrs. McConnell and daughter in Port William, Ohio, until time for the Bible Conference at Winona. He expects now to attend this conference.

The report of the board of State charities for the last fiscal year shows that for the last fiscal year the cost of maintenance in the hospitals for the insane in Indiana for the year ending Oct. 31, 1905, was $176.28 per capita against $227.58 per capita for the year ending Oct. 31, 1891. The saving to the taxpayers thus effected amounted at the four hospitals for the fiscal year ending Oct. 31, 1905, to $86,260.60.

The average per capita cost of maintenance at the State soldiers' and sailors' orphans' home, the institution for the deaf, the blind and the feeble minded during the fiscal year ending Oct. 31, 1891, was $222.79, while for the year ending Oct. 31, 1905, the per capita cost was but $173.90, a saving to the taxpayers of $111,566.98.

A similar saving has been effected at the four correctional institutions. In all, the saving in 1905 over 1891 amounts to fully $300,000, a great saving in one year, and one which reflects great credit upon the strict business like methods that have been introduced in these institutions by the Republican party.

In addition to this saving the inmates are now better fed and better clothed, and the buildings and the equipment of the institutions are in splendid condition. The system and methods in vogue are now of the most modern. In fact such improvements have been made in our State, that Indiana today has no equal in the management and scientific care of its delinquents. The Republican party takes credit for these conditions only so far as it has stood and still stands upon the broad ground that politics has been kept out and should have no place in the management of these institutions.

THE BRUNT OF BATTLE

Will Be Borne by Governor Hanly in the Coming Campaign.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 30.—The Republican state campaign will be launched about the last week in September and the keynote will be sounded by Governor Hanly. The governor will not only deliver the keynote, but will bear the brunt of the contest in hope of creating a strong sentiment in favor of the important measures he expects to present to the legislature next winter. In fact, it will be the governor's play to fortify himself so strongly in the speaking campaign that his battle will be more than half won before the legislature is convened. He is now busy on the general outline of his speeches. He has consulted some of the party leaders relative to the material he will use, and they say that he will certainly stir up the masses and open the eyes of the public in general as to the conditions that exist and the reforms he considers necessary to better government of state affairs.

It would not be surprising to politicians if the campaign for the judicial offices of the district of Orange and Washington counties should attract an unusual degree of attention throughout the state. Judge Buskirk of Paoli, who sustained the demerit to the state's petition for a permanent injunction against gambling and the appointment of receivers for the big French Lick valley hotel properties, is a candidate for re-election. Since Judge Buskirk's election nearly six years ago the judicial district has been changed. In consisted of Orange, Washington and Jackson counties then and was largely Democratic. The last legislature created a separate district of Orange and Washington. Orange is about 450 Republican, while Washington is normally about 550 Democratic, so Judge Buskirk has a close margin to rely on. Attorney General Miller says that a majority of the people around Paoli want the casinos at French Lick and West Baden closed permanently, but that there are many in the French Lick valley, who, regardless of party affiliations, want them continued as a business proposition. Just how far the voters will be influenced by the raids of the state officials on the casinos and by Judge Buskirk's decision in the preliminary legal skirmish, is a matter of considerable speculation. Judge Buskirk may be defeated if the strict law-and-order element is as strong in Washington and Orange as it appears to be elsewhere, but he is also likely to have a walkaway if the assertions that a majority of the people in the French Lick valley want the casinos are well founded.

The policy of the Anti-Saloon League. The report that the temperance forces, aided by the Anti-Saloon League, will attempt to obtain the enactment of some radical legislation at the session of the general assembly next winter, did not cause any surprise, as they are constantly working along their own lines. Among the Republican leaders who are on the inside it caused a slight feeling of uneasiness, as they do not desire the further enactment of temperance legislation. They believe there is plenty on the law books now for all emergencies if it is properly enforced and it is their intention to let well enough alone next winter. They may not, however, be able to manage things to suit themselves, as the temperance forces are perfecting a strong organization and the party in power may not dare to turn them down when the critical time comes.

In the next legislature has been outlined by its president, U. G. Humphrey, who says that it will endeavor to obtain a law by which "blind tigers" may be abolished, and an amendment to the Moore law that will provide for remonstrances covering entire counties. He said the league is looking after the nomination of legislative candidates friendly to it and that it is counting on the support of Governor Hanly. County remonstrances would be a long step toward state prohibition and will be bitterly resisted by the liquor interests. Humphrey said that 90 per cent of the farmers want the saloons eliminated and that the league has wiped out all saloons in 649 of the 1,106 townships in Indiana.

The First district Democratic congressional convention will be held at Petersburg, Wednesday. Major G. V. Menzies of Mt. Vernon has no opposition for renomination.

A Probably Fatal "Joke." Laporte, Ind., July 30.—August Lange tried to frighten two of his friends by forcing an entrance to the house which they occupied. The latter, believing that the house was about to be burglarized, secured an ax, and when Lange put his head through a window which he had raised, dealt him a murderous blow in the darkness and crushed his skull, causing an injury which will probably prove fatal.

Masked Bandits Loot Station. Linden, Ind., July 30.—Eight masked and mounted bandits swooped down on Linden last night at 10:30, seized Jesse Williams, the defenseless agent at the Monon station, bound and gagged him, blew open the safe, secured $506.28 in cash and other valuable railroad papers and rode away in the darkness.

CENSOR AT WORK

Russian Readers Are Denied the News They Most Desire to Read.

THE CLASSIC CAVIAR

Is Even Brought Into Question Once More Against the Invading Foreign Press.

Stirring Incidents Which Are Occurring in Southern Provinces Are Kept From the Public.

St. Petersburg, July 30.—A rumor is current that General Trepoff has been killed. It cannot be confirmed but probably is a revival of the false rumor current last week.

St. Petersburg, July 30.—No news of the formidable revolt at Poltava which was first predicted in revolutionary manifestos in southern Russia, reached the Russian public through the press today. Dispatches of the occurrence have been suppressed here and only scanty details are obtainable through the regular telegraphic channels. The revolutionists here, however, who are almost as promptly and fully informed as the government, declare the trouble to be far from over. An official dispatch gives credit to the statement that machine gun detachments and Cossacks are being used to suppress the mutinous battalion.

There is the same paucity of details regarding the outbreak at Shusha in the Caucasus. This outbreak, however, is not due to revolutionary causes, but to the immemorial hatred that exists between Armenians and Tartars.

The situation at Shusha had become so tense that the governor divided the quarters inhabited by the two races by a "dead line" which neither faction was permitted to cross. The Tartars violated the order and commenced a battle. The garrison interfered when the combat became general and bombarded without partiality both camps with twenty-one guns. The town is said to have been to a large extent destroyed. The "lasting peace" which the two races are said to be drawing up, if judged by past similar agreements, will be only a hollow truce which neither race has any intention of observing.

The situation at Tiflis also is exceedingly strained. The viceroy has prohibited demonstrations or meetings or even the promenading of groups of persons on the principal thoroughfares of the city. It is announced that armed forces will be used to disperse any such gatherings without further preliminary warning.

A plenary meeting of the St. Petersburg council of workmen's deputies representing 130,000 workmen was held Sunday at Terioki, a little town across the Finnish border, which is now the Mecca of all opponents of the government. The members agreed that a general strike, though it must be declared later, at the present moment would be untimely. The afternoon was spent in discussing other measures and expression of views as to the attitude to be taken by the workmen on the dissolution of parliament. Many of the delegates favored a gigantic one-day strike, but no decision of this point was reached.

There is much jubilation among the revolutionists over the escape from prison at Sebastopol of Samenkoff, who is believed to have been an accomplice in the attempt last May on the life of General Nepleuff. This escape sets at liberty one of the most dangerous revolutionary organizers in Russia. Samenkoff is a leading member of the central committee of the social revolutionists. His friends have steadfastly maintained that he had no connection with the plot against General Nepleuff, and say that the authorities used his presence in Sebastopol the day of the attempted assassination as a pretext to arrest and railroad him to the scaffold.

In addition to putting the screws on the Russian press to prevent the publication of unfavorable news from the interior and throwing in the waste basket practically all the foreign press comment on the dissolution of parliament, the government has shown itself to be extremely sensitive to public opinion abroad and has imposed a strict censorship on telegrams sent through the official agency in order to prevent as far as possible harsh criticism. Even the censorship on foreign newspapers, which for a number of years blocked out all articles distasteful to the government, but which was practically abandoned this year, is being restored. "The classic caviar" (articles are blocked out with a mixture of caviar, printers' ink and sand) adorns column after column of the leading periodicals now received in Russia.

MUTINOUS SOLDIERS

One Entire Battalion in Revolt at Poltava.

Poltava, Russia, July 30.—A grave outbreak occurred Saturday in the Sevski regiment, following the arrest of a private of the First battalion who was discovered with some other soldiers in a shed where the revolutionists are in the habit of holding meetings. After the arrest the entire First battalion, accompanied by a large crowd, paraded the streets in defiance of the military authorities. The soldiers proceeded to the artillery barracks, where they seized several guns and marched with them to the prison, where the political prisoners are confined. At this stage all the remainder of the Poltava garrison was called out. The loyal troops fired on the mutineers with machine guns as they were engaged in breaking down the gate of the prison. Several men were killed or wounded. The outbreak was not suppressed until 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Robbers Get More Than $100,000.

Warsaw, July 30.—The postal car robbed on the Warsaw-Vienna railroad near this city Saturday contained a package of $60,000 in cash from abroad and at least $50,000 additional funds. The actual amount taken by the robbers cannot as yet be definitely stated, as the documents attached to the money parcels are missing. The officers and the entire crew of the Volga steamer Kurjer have been arrested on suspicion of placing the steamer at the disposition of the band that held up a train on the Volga railway last Thursday.

Tired of Strife.

Tiflis, July 30.—Advices received here from the Armenian town of Shusha, 180 miles southeast, announced a renewal of hostilities between Armenians and Tartars there. Shusha was bombarded for three days with twenty-one guns and finally set afire. Sunday the viceroy received a telegram stating that the hostilities had ceased and that five representatives of each race had been selected to draw up conditions to ensure a lasting peace in the district.

Captured a Print Shop.

St. Petersburg, July 30.—A party of men armed with revolvers forced their way into the Bousset printing establishment here. They made the foreman a prisoner and prevented the compositors from leaving the building. They then had printed 150,000 copies of the Viborg manifesto of the outlawed lower house of parliament. Strangers calling at the establishment while this work was being done were detained to prevent their giving alarm.

Four Condemned to Death.

Sebastopol, July 30.—A naval court-martial has passed sentences upon the seamen who were arrested for complicity in the mutiny of the Black sea fleet of November, 1905. Four men were condemned to death, one to life servitude, thirty-two to varying terms of penal servitude and fifty to imprisonment. Six were acquitted.

STORM CAUSED WRECK

Train on New York Central Plunged Into a Landslide.

Fishkill Landing, N. Y., July 30.—Pacific express train No. 37 of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad was wrecked shortly before midnight eleven miles below Poughkeepsie by running into a landslide which had been swept down from a high embankment by a terrific rain-storm Sunday afternoon. The engine of the flyer was thrown from the rails and plunged into the Hudson river. Two cars of the train were badly wrecked. Fireman Mills was killed outright and Engineer Edward Wells was so badly injured that he will die. Fifteen passengers were seriously injured and a score of others received minor hurts. During the afternoon and night heavy rains undermined the embankment on the east side of the tracks, and shortly before the arrival of the train two-score tons of earth and rock slid out onto the track.

Salonika, July 30.—Three hundred Turkish troops attacked and dispersed a Greek band Saturday at Rokova near Monastir. Five of the band were killed.

BUSTER BROWN

You might as well live in the garret when you are at home as to travel and carry your duds in a bum bag. What is the difference? If your trip is to be a pleasure trip much of the pleasure will be spoiled if you don't have a nice dress suit case (you can get one for $1.25 or $2.00). Or a good grip of some kind. We have lots of them—for $1.50 to $7.00 etc. And, to be sure you will also wish lots of collars, cuffs neckties, shirts, hosiery and underwear. We can furnish your body and make it fit to live in.

A "change" suit of clothes also is a good thing to have. If we had said it in May we'd not have told the truth; but now we can give you a summer suit for what it cost us at wholesale. We'd rather have your money than our suits therefore.

I take great pleasure in saying to the people of Rushville that I have played upon a large number of Carlin & Lennox Pianos, and find them everyone of the very best grade of instruments. DEATH IN SQUALL

Excursionists Off the New Jersey Shore Meet Sudden Doom.

TWO YACHTS CAPSIZED

Pleasure Loving Philadelphians Enjoying a Day Off the Coast Were Caught in Unexpected Manner.

Eight Were Drowned and But For Heroism of Life Savers List Would Have Been Larger.

Anglesea, N. J., July 30.—Two yachts coming in from the fishing banks capsized on Herford inlet bar off here Sunday and eight persons lost their lives. There were thirty-two persons on one yacht, of whom seven were lost, and twelve on the other, all of whom but one were saved. That not more fell victims to the rough sea was due to the heroism of Captain Henry S. Ludlam of the Herford inlet life-saving station and a crew of five men. So far as known all the dead came from Philadelphia or vicinity.

Anglesea is one of the favorite fishing places along the southern New Jersey coast and has seldom had a busier Sunday than yesterday. Every excursion train from Philadelphia and other nearby points came down crowded with visitors, most of whom intended spending the day fishing. The weather in the morning was ideal and all the fishing boats took out large crowds to the fishing banks. After noon, however, a brisk breeze sprung up and the captains of the small craft hoisted sail and started for home. Most of the fleet got in without mishap, although some of them had considerable difficulty in clearing the Herford bar.

The two that got into trouble were the sloop yacht Nora, which had on board Captain Herbert Shivers, his mate and thirty passengers, and the sloop Alvin B., with a party of twelve. The Nora had gone to the fishing banks at Five Fathom bank about ten miles out to sea early in the day. When the wind began to freshen Captain Shivers decided it was time to make port, and with the assistance of a small gasoline engine and a good spread of canvas he made good time toward Anglesea. The sand obstruction is about a mile from shore. Just as he was about to go over it a heavy squall struck the Nora. Despite the efforts of the captain the keel heeled over and was hit by a big wave. The wind and the wave coming together was more than the yacht could stand and it turned completely over, throwing the thirty-two occupants into the sea. As the boat turned over the mast snapped like a reed. There was an agonizing cry as the yacht turned turtle, which was quickly silenced when nearly all the victims disappeared beneath the water. The heavy sea, however, probably was responsible for the saving of most of the survivors, as the waves were so rough that the upturned yacht was tossed about, thus uncovering the struggling victims who were underneath. As many as could tried to reach the keel, but it was a difficult matter, as there was an indescribable tangle of fishing nets, lines, baskets and sail. There was no time to help one another, as it was all that the struggling men could do to keep their heads above the water. One boy, however, Frederick Fisher, aged fifteen, who was found struggling near the boat, was lifted upon the upturned keel by two men who had tight grips on the vessel. In the unequal fight against the elements the struggling men disappeared one by one until seven had gone to a watery grave. After hanging to the yacht for nearly an hour and as hope of rescue had almost been abandoned, a government lifeboat commanded by Captain Henry Ludlam of the Herford inlet saving station hove in sight. As he came near he shouted encouragement to the men clinging to the Nora, and after some maneuvering managed to get close to the capsized vessel. He was not a moment too soon, for as he came within a boat's length of the Nora four men, weakened from exhaustion, let go their holds and began floating away. Captain Ludlam threw his boat around and the four half-drowned men were drawn out of the water. Then at the risk of their own lives the rescuers went after the other men and pulled them into their boat.

Shortly after the survivors of the Nora were brought ashore, another yacht, the Alvin B., was seen to capsize about a mile above the place where the Nora went over. There were several boats in the vicinity at the time and all but one person was saved. The Alvin was owned by E. L. Hallman, a lawyer of Pottsville, Pa. He and a party of friends were on board at the time.

ONLY CIGAR IN ITS CLASS

Thos. W. Lytle Never Saw Cigars Before That Equaled Chico For Same Money

While there are many cigars that are just as good as Wadsworth Bros.' Chico, it is in reality in a class by itself, for no other as good sells for 5c. Cigars that equal it sell for 10c. and more.

In asking Thos. W. Lytle, who has the local agency for the Wadsworth Bros.' Chico, how this could be done, Mr. Lytle said that it was owing to cutting out of the middle-man. "I buy the Chico direct from the factory in Birmingham, and while it costs me more than any other 5c. cigar in my case, yet I am glad to sell it, for it makes new friends and customers for my cigar department."

Anyone who enjoys a clear Havana smoke, whose taste is cultivated so that he knows a good cigar when he smokes it, should try a Wadsworth Bros.' Chico. It's in the blue ribbon class, and all alone.
